DISASTER
dioramas!

Welcome to the latest in the Disaster Dioramas series: The Boston Molasses Disaster. If you stuck with me through the Apollo 13 papercraft, thanks so much! Hopefully, this one will go easier. At least its only 6 pages. Let's begin!

Fold base on the dotted lines - first (a) and then (b). Stick the tab-y part between the folds. Use a knife to cut the solid lines (4) on the base. The longest slot will be for the back of the diorama (pg 2). The other three are for the steel container of molasses.
